Appligent is shipping FDFMerge, a server-based application that streamlines document production and delivery. FDFMerge 4.0 combines information extracted from a database in Forms Data Format with a PDF file to create a completed PDF form. Scripting programmers can use FDFMerge within their own applications. New features in the 4.0 release include support for typographic effects; support for the XFDF data format (XML-based representation of FDF data) in addition to Adobe FDF; and 40- or 128-bit encryption of merged PDF documents.
